

Academic Probation

The policy statements below outline the steps leading to Academic Probation and that may result in suspension from the College. The policy applies to students who attempt nine or more credits in a given semester at Landmark College.

- If a student's cumulative GPA at the end of a semester falls below 2.0 (or below 1.8 for a student completing the 1st semester), the student will begin the next semester on Academic Warning.
- If the student's cumulative GPA remains below 2.0 at the end of the next consecutive semester, the student will begin the next semester on Academic Probation.
- If the student's cumulative GPA remains below 2.0 at the end of the next consecutive semester, the student will be liable for Suspension from the College for one year.

A semester is defined as the fall or spring term. Summer credit courses and study abroad do not constitute semesters, although grades earned during these programs are factored into the cumulative GPA.

Students who enter the program at the non-credit level in the partial-credit program are expected to earn passing grades of C- or better in EN and FY courses within two attempts. Students who are unable to earn the minimum grade following two attempts at each course may be asked to leave the college and must petition the Academic Dean to continue enrollment at the College.
