7. Tax Savings Through Deductions & Credits
An “Itemized Deduction” (such as medical expenses) goes on Schedule A (along with charitable deductions, mortgage interest, real estate taxes, state and local income taxes, etc.)

Must exceed 7.5% of Adjusted Gross Income (AGI) for 2017 and 2018 tax years, reverts back to 10% of AGI in subsequent years.

You need more than $12,700 (24,000 for 2018) in Itemized Deductions to exceed the “Standard Deduction” to benefit from “itemizing”. Total itemized deductions of $12,800 result in an additional deduction of $100.

Itemized Deductions reduce your taxes based on your marginal tax rate (e.g. $10,000 x 28% results in a tax savings of $2,800).

More Definitions

✓ A “Tax Credit” is a dollar for dollar reduction in tax (e.g., a $2,000 tax credit lowers your taxes by $2,000!)

✓ A “Refundable Tax Credit” is even more wonderful. You get the money even if you owe no taxes! Maximum refundable credit is $1,000.
“Avoidance of taxes is not a criminal offense. Any attempt to reduce, avoid, minimize, or alleviate taxes by legitimate means is permissible.

The distinction between evasion and avoidance is fine yet definite.

One who avoids tax does not conceal or misrepresent. He shapes events to reduce or eliminate tax liability and upon the happening of the events, makes a complete disclosure. Evasion, on the other hand, involves deceit, subterfuge, camouflage, concealment, some attempt to color or obscure events, or making things seem other than what they are.”

- 907-Tax Highlights for Persons with Disabilities, page 4
Landmark College's tuition, room and board and fees may qualify as a medical deduction for tax purposes.

Publication 502 Special Education

You can include in medical expenses fees you pay on a doctor's recommendation for a child's tutoring by a teacher who is specially trained and qualified to work with children who have learning disabilities caused by mental or physical impairments, including nervous system disorders.

You can include in medical expenses the cost (tuition, meals, and lodging) of attending a school that furnishes special education to help a child to overcome learning disabilities. For expenses to be deductible, a doctor must recommend that the child attend the school. Overcoming the learning disabilities must be a principal reason for attending the school, and any ordinary education received must be incidental to the special education provided.

You can't include in medical expenses the cost of sending a child with behavioral problems to a school where the course of study and the disciplinary methods have a beneficial effect on the child's attitude if the availability of medical care in the school isn't a principal reason for sending the student there.
How does it affect you?

• In addition to tuition and fees, other costs such as:

  ✓ Books
  ✓ Computers
  ✓ Travel and other educational related expenses may be tax deductible

• We recommend that you consult your tax advisor regarding the deductibility of these expenses in your situation
Medical Care

Medical Care includes amounts paid (A) for the diagnosis, cure, mitigation, treatment or prevention of disease, or for the purpose of affecting any structure or function of the body (including amounts paid for accident or health insurance) (and) (B) for transportation primarily for and essential to medical care.

Section 213(d)(1) & (2) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986.
Medical Expenses

You can include in medical expenses the cost (tuition, meals, and lodging) of attending a school that furnishes special education to help a child to overcome learning disabilities. A doctor must recommend that the child attend the school. Overcoming the learning disabilities must be a principal reason for attending the school, and any ordinary education received must be incidental to the special education provided.
What Do You Need?

While IRS publications say you need a Doctor to recommend the School in order to qualify for the medical deduction, numerous IRS rulings and court cases have allowed a deduction where a formal diagnosis by a Doctor or other qualified professional exists of a specific condition that requires treatment.
E.F. Glaze vs. Commissioner (TCM 1961-244) - establishes criteria for deducting costs as medical expenses:
- The principal purpose of expenditure is for “medical” reasons,
- If the expenditures directly relate to the treatment, and
- Could the treatment reasonably be expected to be effective.

Lawrence D. Greisdorf (54 TC 1684)
- Medical deduction allowed since principal purpose for attendance was school’s therapeutic value and wasn’t its incidental educational benefits.
Private Letter Ruling 8401024
- School servicing students with Dyslexia ruled to qualify as a “Special School” under the definition of I.R.S Regulation 1.213-1(e)(1)(V)(a) thus qualifying expenses as medical deductions.

Private Letter Ruling 8447014
- Curriculum of a special school may include some ordinary education, but this must be incidental to the primary purpose of the school to enable the student to compensate for or overcome a handicap, in order to prepare that student for future normal education and living. If school qualifies as special school tuition and other expenses, including expenses of transportation to and from the school to the extent such transportation is primarily for and essential to the Medical care, are deductible.
Court Rulings And Resources

- Revenue Ruling 78-340-tuition under Dr. recommended program designed to return student to traditional program within a few years deductible as medical expenses.

- Private Letter Ruling 200521003
  - Helping the student overcome a physical or mental handicap and move on to normal education and living is the essence of special education. Normal education is not medical care because it is not designed to help someone overcome a medical disability. Thus, a physician or other qualified professional must diagnose a medical condition requiring special education to correct the condition for that education to be medical care.
The school need not employ physicians to provide that special education, but must have professional staff competent to design and supervise a curriculum providing medical care. Overcoming the learning disabilities must be a principal reason for attending the school, and any ordinary education received must be incidental to the special education provided. Section 1.213-1(e)(1)(v)(a); Rev. Rul. 70-285, 1970-1 C.B. 52.

Dyslexia can be sufficiently severe as to be such a handicap. Rev. Rul. 69-607, 1969-2 C.B. 40.

Fortifying Your Deduction

- Add a statement to return detailing medical deduction claimed and principal purpose for attendance at Landmark College for its therapeutic values, illustrative example available.

- If selected for audit, provide detail of deduction, information about Landmark College and various reference materials to your representative or the IRS agent if you are handling your own case, not generally recommended.

- Key point to stress to IRS agent is that therapeutic treatment was primary reason for attendance at Landmark College and education received was incidental to this treatment.
Other Tax Strategies

- Withdrawal from Health Savings Account: If tax-free expenses qualify for medical deduction, no medical deduction allowed for amounts withdrawn from HSA account (can’t take both HSA deduction and in itemized medical deduction).

- Withdrawal from ROTH IRA account: Amounts contributed/converted come out first, no taxes due. Earnings after 59 1/2 and five years of account being open are tax free. Can still claim Medical deduction or Education credits if otherwise eligible.

Other Funding Methods

- Withdrawal from IRA account, taxable, but withdrawals for education expenses and medical expenses in excess of 7.5% of AGI not subject to 10% early withdrawal penalty. Expenses still qualify for medical/education deduction or credit if qualification criteria are met. Income will increase AGI which may affect deductions and credits.

- Withdrawal from Qualified Plan, if allowable and if structured as a loan, it is nontaxable if repaid. If not repaid - taxable. If structured as a taxable withdrawal, funds used for medical expenses in excess of 7.5% of AGI not subject to the 10% penalty; education does not qualify for exception from the penalty. Unpaid loans upon separation from service are taxable, and potentially subject to penalty.
