All Visiting students are required to take Narrowing the Gap plus one additional fulltime course. Please read through this form carefully to understand your options. If you have questions, please contact us at summer@landmark.edu at (802) 387-6718.

Please choose either Track A or Track B, indicating your choice below:

☐ Structure, Style, and Strategies: Demystifying Academic Writing

This course examines in detail the various factors that may have caused students to struggle with college writing, while taking a highly individual approach to the development of self-understanding and effective strategy use. Because most students in the course have had the experience of being diagnosed or labeled with some type of learning difference, the course uses self-understanding of learning differences and your social context as a focus for writing assignments. Students are expected to complete regular writing assignments inside and out of class to improve fluency, to engage in a variety of strategies for planning, generating, and organizing papers, and to complete several papers.

☐ Establishing and Effective Writing Process: Improving Your Executive Function

In this course, students will learn and practice approaches to managing college writing assignments by generating daily writing and learning how to improve executive function. Included is the examination of various genres of writing. Students can elect to take this course for credit, and are required to submit a completed e-Folio of writing assignments demonstrating proficiency in writing skills.

PLEASE SEE THE BACK OF THIS PAGE FOR INFORMATION ABOUT TRACK B.
